

Tough enough for flight schools. A great value for private pilots.

Condor aircraft tires offer outstanding durability and value, which explains why they've been popular with flight schools and private pilots for so many years. They are tough enough to handle the rigors of a flight school environment, widely available at an economical price, and offer the new tire peace of mind that a retread simply can't match. For tires that deliver quality, reliability and high value, contact your Condor dealer today.

Tough tires. Great value.

Exceptional Stability
